AWIC Desktop is a subscription-based IT service for small and medium businesses which is hosted in "the cloud".

The service is a way of providing the office user with access to their normal computer desktop: Microsoft Windows and associated software, such as Microsoft Office, with exactly the same look and feel as a PC desktop.

The difference is that the service is located in a secure, central data centre and accessed via the internet.

Savings of up to 67% on your IT infrastructure when you switch to hosted desktop.

Quality IT for less. Everyone in your organisation can have access to enterprise-quality IT infrastructure for a low monthly fee.

Low maintenance. Always there. All servers are maintained 24/7 by our qualified engineers and your staff no longer need to spend time on patching, upgrades or costly hardware replacements. Desktops can be accessed from anywhere with a connection to the internet, which means flexible working for your staff.

No surprises. All members of your staff receive a standard Microsoft XP hosted desktop, with options such as shared data storage, Microsoft Office Professional, Microsoft Exchange and Blackberry connectivity -- the same office applications you're used to.

The comfort of reliable IT.

Reliable, accessible subscription-based computing that saves you money.
